

books
from
RUSSIA
reading together

Vera Bogdanova

Vera Bogdanova is a writer, translator, literary critic. She was born in Moscow, and graduated from the Faculty of Linguistics of the Moscow State Regional University, specializing in linguist/translator from English in 2011. She has been the student of Olga Slavnikova at the Creative Writing School. A finalist of «National Bestseller» and «Lyceum» awards in the field of literature in 2020-2021. Her novels «Season of Poisoned Fruit» and «Pavel Zhang and Other River Creatures» also made long lists for the Big Book and Yasnaya Polyana national awards. She is the winner of the special prize of the magazine «Yunost» in 2020 for «the masterful adherence to the canons of the genre and the freedom of novel breathing» for the novel «Pavel Zhang and Other River Creatures». Vera Bogdanova's stories were published in «Novy Mir», «Bookmate Journal» and «Yunost» magazines. She has authored articles for the magazines «Rules of Life», «Bitter», «Reading», «Friendship of Peoples», blog «Storytel». She has highlighted translation novelties for «Afisha Daily», and is the author of a blog about what's new on «The New York Times» bestseller list.

She speaks English and Japanese. She is currently living in Moscow.

